Baby, won't you give me just a little part of you
Won't you give me just a little souvenir
I know that i can't give you no money no home
I know that i can't give you anything at all

Baby, won't you give me just a little smile of your eyes
Won't you give me just a short short time with you
I know that i can't give you no diamonds no cars
I know that i can't give you anything at all

But i, i will be there, waiting for you
I will be there, always ready for you
I will be there i will always be there
For you, for you i'll be there, waiting for you
For you, for you i'll be there, always ready for you
I will be there always be there

Baby, won't you give me just one more night with you
Won't you give me just a last good souvenir
I know that i can't give you no promisses no ring
I know that i can't give you anything at all

But i, i will be there, waiting for you
I will be there, always ready for you
I will be there liing in your bed
Always waiting for you
For you, for you i'll be there, waiting for you
For you, for you i'll be there, always ready for you
I will be there at the end of the time
I will be there at the end of the line
For You
